THE TIME IS NEAR

Well this is it only a couple of weeks to go and we will be jetting off to the 2nd annual PFCI. Time has flown by lets just hope time slows for the 10 Days.

Everything is more or less organized. All we have to do is turn up fish, eat, sleep and drink umm well maybe drink some more.

As always emirates have got more movies to watch than the 3 -4 hour flight will allow. If you want to check out what's show go to http://www.emirates.com/english/flying/service_finder/service_finder.aspx and type in the details.

Until the 2nd of Feb Stay safe and looking forward to get the PFCI 2013 Underway

TRAVEL PLANS

As per last year we will meet at the airport around the 6.15am mark.

I will send an email out so I can get peoples passport details (that I Don't Have) and I can do an online check in.

By the flight stats it looks like the plane has always departed late (currently 49% onetime record) lets hope this is not that case or there will be a bit of drinking at the airport.

Organise among your selves on transport options to and from the airport.
