

PFCI 2012 FORM GUIDE

ANDREW

Could be the surprise packet on the trip. Didn't last long at bens bucks so the talk is he will go out hard but not last the distance. The light frame of this man will ensure maximum boat speed and therefore longer fishing time.

Due to recent events, speed could be a factor if he is able to keep the motor or if it falls off with too much speed. (see Andrew for more details)

With this could be odds on to take out the go Karting and looking good for placing's in all other events.

CAM

Back to the home land to show us how it is done, Likes the odd drink or 2 or 3 or 10. Wont say no and will never give up on a challenge. Has proved many a times on his drinking skills. But be weary as this can be brought undone when the turkeys are introduced. Plenty of love to be shared by this man so be aware on who you might wake up next to.

Expected to give it a good go and may be a surprise packet and place in a few events.

GEORGE

Can this English rose take the winnings? Not much is known about this English lad. Can he fish??? No one knows.. Can he Drink?? Well he can hold his liquor. But for 5 - 7 days, well we will have to wait and see if George can come through with the goods. Might give the cricket a good nudge so lets hope an afternoon session doesn't turn into a test match.

Odds don't say too much but don't write him off for an upset in one of the events.

BEN S

Driving experience?? Yes. Fishing Experience?? Yes. We may have to reserve space in our suitcase as this bloke is nearly odds on in everything. Could this man be the reason to rule changes in 2013 and handicaps???

Expect this man to give the drink a fair nudge but look out he could steal your stash..

Odds on to Win or place in all events.

BEN J

First boys trip away as a married man? Could he run amuck? This man will always have a beer in his hand if not one close by. If neither one of them well he Probably wants one so be a good little bitch and get him one. Has caught plenty of fish at this location before so he knows his stuff. Will be there for the long haul in the drinking but could come undone if jaggier red bulls are introduced.

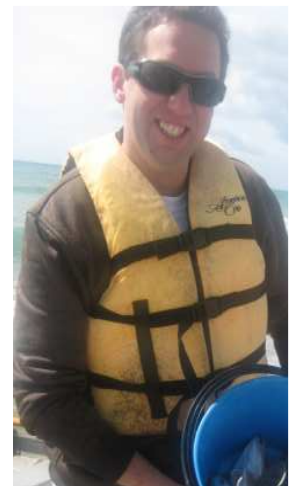

A chance to take out a win or two but odds on for placing's in all events

LACHLAN

Pretty much to form, From all experiences with this fellow it is always the same, Go hard or go home. Expect a few jokes to be cracked through out the trip and likely at someone else expense. This is one to watch after recent testing in September. Turns out this guy can fish or was it first time lucky. Also a Definite contender for some Man-Love

Will give the placing's a fair nudge but expected to finish just out side..

MARK

This man is in it for the long haul. Good drinking sessions that will last long into the early hours of the next day are his favourite events. Expected to go pound for pound for the biggest fish. If not will come close. As our leading Deep Sea Scuba Expert expect plenty of Cray, Scallops and Mussels for entrees each night..

Expected to place well in most events.

JAMES

Probably the odds on to get nude and run down the beach. Can drink but major down fall in fishing by suffering Sea Sickness. Drinking + Fishing may end up with lots of fish from the Burleigh or a early finish/Late Start to recover. With this you have to feel for his team mate. Will have a crank and is at good odds to last the distance. Probably the best looking lad on the trip and highly likely to pack the Feather boa..

May finish just off the placing's in all competition events.
